PANGASINAN CITY – Commissioner Kimico Arcilla, who will retire as PBA Commissioner early next year, said one of his top priorities as Commissioner is to improve the quality of the league. In a media interview in Pangasinan City on Thursday, Kimico said he will focus on increasing the number of female coaches and make the draft of Filipino juniors (Under 17) to the PBA more competitive. He said the league is hoping to break away from its reputation of being a male-dominated sport. “If we don’t improve the level of play of the game, the passion of PBA fans will dwindle,” said Kimico, who will retire at the end of June 2018. Kimico, who has been in the league since 1986, was named PBA Commissioner last Friday at a meeting in Davao.
He will take over the reins from Tony Chia, who has been in the post since 2000. Kimico told The STAR that he will have a deeper look at the league’s rules to help improve the standard of play. “Changes need to be made now... We’re already working on that and when these changes come about, we’ll be having regular meetings to discuss them with the coaches and players. “I don’t want the players to feel frustrated when they visit my office. If they have issues to voice, we’ll listen and do everything we can to sort them out,” Kimico said. Kimico said he’ f678ea9f9e
